BLUEPRINCE SPONSORS HABITAT FOR HUMANITY BUILD IN BALTIMORE, MD

Baltimore, MD – NOVEMBER 5, 2009, – During this time of economic uncertainty, members of the building community are giving back. While attending the International Code Council (ICC) Conference, BluePrince Community Development Software organized a Habitat for Humanity build in Baltimore, MD. Members of the BluePrince team along with employees from municipalities across the country participated in the project. Additionally, BluePrince is launching an initiative to organize several Habitat for Humanity project throughout the county.

“Since we are members of the building community working on a Habitat house feels like the perfect fit,” said Lorrie Barnwell, BluePrince Executive Vice President. “We enjoy working side by side with our customers and other members of the local government sector assisting members of a community that are struggling. That is why we plan to organize events similar to the Baltimore build throughout the country because it’s enjoyable and also meaningful.”

The BluePrince team assisted in the 2400 E. Fayette Street project where nine homes are being built and should be finished by the end of 2009. The next build will take place in Asheville, NC where the BluePrince headquarters is located.

About Habitat for Humanity of the Chesapeake

Habitat for Humanity of the Chesapeake is a non-profit housing organization which provides simple, decent and affordable homeownership opportunities in partnership with people in need. Homes are sold with no-interest loans to qualified homebuyers who earn 25% to 50% of the area median income and live in current conditions of need. Future homeowners contribute 350 hours of “sweat equity,” working on Chesapeake Habitat construction sites alongside other community volunteers.
